

Kingsville Baptist Church

Bookkeeper / Financial Administrator - Job Description

Status: Current

Rev. September 2026

Position Summary

The Bookkeeper / Financial Administrator is a paid, part-time, non-ministerial staff role that supports the day-to-day financial operations of Kingsville Baptist Church.

This role helps maintain accurate financial records, process routine transactions, prepare monthly bank reconciliations and financial reports, and keep documentation organized according to approved church policy and financial controls.

This role is both a job and a ministry of service. The Bookkeeper / Financial Administrator is expected to serve with a Christ-like attitude, recognizing that accurate, confidential, and orderly financial work supports the mission and health of the church.

This role is operational. It does not replace the governance responsibilities of the Treasurer or Finance Committee.

Success in this role means KBC's routine financial records are accurate, timely, confidential, well organized, and ready for review by the Treasurer, Finance Committee, and other authorized reviewers.

Coordinated Staffing Arrangement

Kingsville Baptist Church's preferred staffing arrangement is to select one qualified person to serve as Treasurer and perform the paid Bookkeeper / Financial Administrator duties described in this document. The Treasurer remains a church officer recommended by the Nominating Committee and selected by the church in accordance with the Constitution and Bylaws. Compensation does not change the Treasurer's accountability to the church or the authority of the church, Finance Committee, or other governing bodies.

If the combined arrangement cannot be filled, the church may employ a separate Bookkeeper / Financial Administrator and fill the Treasurer office separately as a volunteer position.

When one person performs both roles, that person carries both sets of responsibilities but must still follow the controls and approval requirements that apply to each task. Work that requires review must be reviewed by the Finance Committee or another reviewer designated under approved church policy; the preparer should not be the only reviewer.

4. Payroll Coordination

- Coordinate payroll inputs, approvals, and records if assigned.

- Maintain payroll documentation without sharing confidential details unnecessarily.
- Flag payroll questions for the appropriate supervisor, Finance Committee, or outside professional.

- Experience with church, nonprofit, or fund accounting.
- Experience with contribution records and donor confidentiality.

- Experience with accounting or church-management software.
- Familiarity with payroll coordination.
- Ability to help document repeatable procedures.

Accountability & Support

- Employment oversight and day-to-day supervision: Personnel Committee or a supervisor designated in accordance with church practice.
- Financial workflow direction and review: Finance Committee and the Treasurer / Financial Officer when the roles are held by separate individuals.
- When one person performs both roles, required review is completed by the Finance Committee or another reviewer designated under approved church policy.
- Evaluation is coordinated by the Personnel Committee with Finance Committee input on financial duties and controls.

The Bookkeeper / Financial Administrator should receive clear written procedures, regular support, and timely feedback. The goal of supervision and review is clarity, encouragement, accountability, and healthy continuity for the church rather than surprise criticism.

Expectations for Character & Work Ethic

- Demonstrate honesty, discretion, and care in handling church financial information.
- Maintain confidentiality in all financial, donor, payroll, personnel, and committee-related matters.
- Be dependable, consistent, accurate, and timely in completing assigned work.

- Serve with a cooperative and Christ-like attitude, recognizing this work as a ministry of service to the church.

Compensation

- This is a paid position funded through the church's approved budget and authorization process.
- When one person serves as Treasurer and performs the Bookkeeper / Financial Administrator duties, the combined service arrangement is compensated under terms approved separately by the church.
- Compensation does not change the authority of the church or Finance Committee and does not replace the selection process required for the Treasurer as a church officer.
- Work schedules and reporting deadlines are established through the church's employment and financial review processes.

Terms of Service

The Bookkeeper / Financial Administrator is employed by Kingsville Baptist Church under the church's approved authority and employment process. Employment and continuation in this role are overseen by the Personnel Committee or assigned supervisor, in coordination with the Finance Committee for financial duties and controls. Serving as Bookkeeper / Financial Administrator does not by itself select the person as Treasurer; service as Treasurer requires the separate church-officer process established by the Constitution and Bylaws.
